Formaldehyde

While Formaldehyde is recognized as the best preventive against Smut in grain, to be effective it must be of good quality.

We guarantee ours to be full strength. At the same time our prices are as low as is often charged for an in-

GOPHERCIDE EXTERMINATES GOPHERS.
Gophericide is a new poison, of which Strychnine is the base. The bitter taste of Strychnine has been overcome, so that the gophers eat it readily and die almost instantly. As it dissolves quickly and completely in warm water, it is much easier to handle than other poisons.

Get a 50c. package of "Gophericide," which will make half a gallon of solution--enough to poison a gallon of wheat and kill over 350 gophers--7 for a cent.

MARRIED.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Withers, of Spring Valley, on March 26th, 1913, at 7:30 a.m., when their youngest daughter, Miss Nora Evelyn, was united in marriage to Mr. Fred Lange, of Rev. Haddon, of Bentley, officiating. The bride was beautiful in white silk with lace and embroidery. The bridesmaid was Miss Alice Miller, of Lockhart. The groom was attended by Mr. Charles Withers, brother of the bride. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion. After the ceremony and congratulations, all sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast, after which the newly married couple left amid showers of rice, confetti, etc., for Calgary, Banff, and other points.

They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents. Both are well known in this community, and their host of friends wish them a happy and prosperous wedded life.

THEATRICAL.

The attraction at the Comet Theatre for April 10-11-12 is the popular comedian, Mr. Oliver Eckhardt and his associate players in a repertoire of standard plays.

With him this season Mr. Eckhardt brings a very strong organization, including Mr. Wm. Vale and Mr. Gerald Pringle of the Constance Crawley Company. During a recent visit to New York, Mr. Eckhardt secured the most recent dramatic successes, two of which he will present during his engagement here, "Bought and Paid For," and "Way Down East." Neither of these bills need any comment. The former is considered Geo. Broadhurst's greatest production, and the latter is from the pen of Lottie Blair Parker.

Macdonald held the first meeting of his campaign at the Lincoln school house on Saturday evening, and it is an indication of what future meetings are to be, no lack of enthusiasm need be feared. Johnson, the president of the local Conservative organization, took the chair and introduced the speakers, of whom six addressed the meeting, four from Lacombe and two from Fairview, addressing the electors in English and Mr. Landeen in the native tongue of the audience. Those present freely expressed themselves as believing that the time for a change in government has come, and the men of Lincoln will vote accordingly on the 17th.

THE OHIO HORROR.

Again to the whole civilized world comes the clarion call to think of others. Again in the hearts and minds of men deep echoes unto death.

Barely a year ago a new ocean wonder, freshly fashioned in the halls of modern industry, went to the bottom of the Atlantic. The whole earth was staggered and thrilled. But what was the tragedy of the Titanic compared to the hourly growing horror in the basin of the Ohio!

True, in the great ocean wreck men and women bore themselves with heroic dignity and nearly seventeen hundred souls went out into the Atlantic night. But the sun of human suffering in the icy, numbing waters could not have been great.

Not so in the storm and flood swept area to the south of us. Before the suffering that human beings have there endured since Sunday last, before all the anguish and the agony, imagination stands appalled and paralyzed. And the holocaust is still unconsumed. Surely in these stricken States the index finger of human grief points to a record intensity.

For of like passions with ourselves are the men and women broken by the cyclone, caught in the torrent, here dying from hunger and exposure, there perishing in the flames. Busy in an era of development in advance of our own they have seen their cities and towns well grounded in prosperity. They have labored slowly as we in Western Canada are now laboring. They have seen the fruit of their toil as we are seeing it, and have boasted even as we are boasting.

A week ago in these well-settled valleys, amid the impulses of spring, plans were being laid for the coming summer. Life seemed a merry thing, and hearts beat hopefully. Today thousands of these hearts are still in death. The cities and towns, built brick upon brick with pride and confidence, have been destroyed like children's playthings. Homes of contentment have been raised to masses of debris or swept to destruction by the onrushing flood.

The deepest, heartfelt sympathy of every Canadian has long since crossed the international boundary in winged flight. We know that these sun-stricken people are in pain. We wish them to feel it. We wish them to feel it. For mental we have obliterated the bonds of race and caste. It has set at naught subtleties of creed.

Don't be surprised if you have an attack of rheumatism this spring. Just rub the affected parts freely with Chamberlain's Liniment and it will soon disappear. Sold by Lacombe Drug Co., Ltd. (3)

Just a Game to Catch Votes

It is regrettable fact that in pertinence, in view of the fact that a majority of the people of Canada, declared by their votes that they do not want reciprocity; not only once, but half a dozen times since Confederation. The game was, of course, to catch the votes of the unthinking ones who are not familiar with the status of a provincial legislature. To these people we would point out that it would not make the least difference in the case of reciprocity if the Alberta legislature were to pass a thousand resolutions. The question is a Dominion one and can be settled only at Ottawa, and the western legislature which "buts in" with a resolution dealing with that question in any one place in the west with an eastern legislature which would presume to pass resolutions touching the grain commis- sion, for instance, what it should do with reference to the proposed terminal elevators in the west. The habit is a pernicious one and will lead to all kinds of complications unless the members of the different provinces show that they are big enough to stop a practice which is for political effect only. Why the resolution was with- drawn out of course, has no means of knowing, but we are surprised that the member from such a promising commercial centre as Camrose should so far forget the future interests of his own city as to come forward as a sponsor for a resolution which, if its intention be carried out, will make of Camrose a common, ordinary country town, instead of the large and prosperous industrial center it will eventually be if the farmers of the Camrose district are only brought close to a home market by manufacturing development in such places as Camrose, instead of sending everything they produce thousands of miles away, and importing what they consume from the same distant points, thus handing over most of their profits to railway companies and outsiders. Surely there are at all times sufficient purely provincial matters to engage the attention of the Alberta legislature without intruding into a Dominion field where the legislature has absolutely no business. It is well, too, for the electors at large to know that this "wider market" resolution was merely a political device with the object of pulling the wool over their eyes, and that it would have not the least particle of effect on the question one way or another, even if it had been passed. It is time politicians should at least be honest with their constituents upon such an important question.

Passing Events

The senate of the Delaware Legislature has thrown out the woman suffrage bill.
 A German motor tank ship, using oil and carrying about 8,000 tons, has had a successful trial.
 The hotelkeepers have formed a Dominion organization, with Mr. George Wright, Toronto, as president.
 Considerable loss of life was caused by earthquake shocks in Southern Guatemala on March 8th.
 The steamship Royal Edward picked up a wireless message at a distance of 2,000 miles telling of the explosion of the ship, Scotland. This is said to constitute a new record.
 The Parliament of Sweden has passed a bill forbidding the sale of wine, beer and liquors at the Parliamentary restaurant, and it is expected that a prohibition law may be enacted before long.
 Ninety persons were killed and many more injured in a violent wind and electrical storm that swept the Southern States on March 13th. In Georgia alone 22 persons perished and the property damage is estimated at a million dollars.
 Ralph Pulitzer, editor of the New York World, has taken proceedings against Mayor Gaynor for criminal libel based on the mayor's alleged statement that Mr. Pulitzer's father had amassed a fortune of 50 millions through infamy and blackmail.
 A number of high officers of the Belgian army are accused by the military authorities with swindling the government of over a million dollars by means of fraudulent contracts for supplies. A military inquiry is being held.
 Australian Methodists are sharply divided over the question of compulsory military training. After a warm discussion at the Methodist Conference at Sydney, N. S. W., and while the increase in pay- ments to the firemen only amounted to $637,437. They held that the stockholders had received a very large share during recent years as compared with wage payments to the firemen.
 Dr. F. F. Friedmann in a lecture to the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis at Ottawa, said that one of the best things about his cure was the fact that it had proved effective in immunizing children exposed to the disease. He treated ten patients at Ottawa, forty at Toronto and a number also at London, Ont., and Montreal.
 Albert Freeman was sentenced in New York on Friday, March 14th, to five years imprisonment and Julian Hawthorn and Dr. William J. Morton to one year each for obstructing stamp- out in selling stock in the exploitation of Canadian mining claims. Hawthorn is a son of Nathaniel Hawthorne, the novelist, and himself an author, and Dr. Morton is a son of Dr. W. G. Morton, the first user of ether in surgical operations.
 Several bombs intended to kill or maim the editors of the leading papers in Calcutta, and sent through the post office in the form of letters, exploded on March 17th while being stamped, after they had been sorted. Three of the sorters in the main post office were fatally injured. The deadly missiles were addressed to the editors of four papers, the "Englishman," the "Statesman," "Capital" and "Empire."
THE MARTYRDOM OF MADRID.
 It was a blunder worse than a crime on the part of General Huerta to permit the assassination of ex-President Madero of Mexico, if he was in a position to prevent it. Nothing the revolutionists can now say or do will displace the public opinion of the civilized world of opinion if not the belief that those who were powerful enough to keep Mr. Madero in prison were consenting parties to the violence by which they were relieved of the embarrassment caused by the fact that they were his custodians. The Government of the United States thought the preservation of his life at this juncture a matter of so much importance that it made official representation on his behalf to the President of the Government of Mexico; his speedy and violent removal has all the appearance of a purposeful rejoinder to an attempt at foreign intervention.
 The men who are now assuming to govern Mexico without constitutional warrant for doing so will in the late President's procedure from first to last find no justification of their treatment of him. He was, until his recent resignation, the constitutionally elected head of the Mexican Republic. He defended his office by force when he was attacked by armed forces. He set out with the determination to be a constitutional ruler, and as yet outsiders have no knowledge of any reason to believe he ever fell short of his ideal. By the world at large he will henceforth be regarded as a martyr, and it will be neither unmanly nor regrettable if a large proportion of his fellow-citizens should hereafter and for all time take a like view of his regime and of the tragedy that brought it to a close.

About Whiskers

Without explaining where the members get a license for such hasty meddling, word comes that the National Association of Merchant Tailors has agreed that side whiskers and tight coats must be worn in 1913.

Passing over the tight coat as being wholly within the tailors' dictatorial province, it is hoped the side whisker, or any other sort, will be immediately viewed with alarm, if not in fact denounced and deplored. It is high time for the Amalgamated Union of Safety Razor Growers to act and vigorously.

The work of the world must be done, but it cannot be if men are to raise whiskers. A beard of any sort—side, chin, face or rope curtain effect, portion, weeping willow, plain alfalfa or common garden variety—leaves a man no time for anything else. He will sit for hours combing, congratulating and coqueting his hairy effort in a mirror. He will put in days fertilizing, harrowing and weeding his facial fillic patch. Cultivating a whisker is like coloring a meerschum pipe—either a life-work. A man should have no other cares or problems to distract his attention.

The cultivator is always in a quandary. He considers whether the beard shall be trained on a trellis in a creeping ivy style, or whether he shall go in for the careless rambler article. He debates the picturesque and highly ornamental Grecian effect as opposed to the severe and conventional Gothic design in whiskers. His days are seasons of unprofitable speculation and his nights are made hideous by dreams in which he imagines he has chosen the wrong whisker effect. In time he comes to shun all nourishment and dwindles to a mere shadow of his former sprightly self.

The tailor will find that if he insists on a general whisker cultivation his patrons will be wholly incapacitated from earning the money necessary to buy even the tightest and skimpiest of coats. But it will not come to that. It will be discovered that men—good-looking, law-abiding men, who do not have to adopt a disguise or hide their homeliness behind a whiskered shrubbery—will not stand for beards. The tailor may design men's garments even to trimming them with fringe, but he will fall with a dull, sickening thud when he tried to trim a man's features with fringe. He will learn before he has gone very far that.

To whiskers you may lead a man, but cannot make him keep 'em. For when he sees your back is turned he'll slip away and reap 'em.

TO PROSPECT CANADA.

As Canadians we are beginning to feel that we are in a measure grown up, and that we have advanced rapidly and far along most lines of human progress. But, as yet, commercially speaking, our country is but scratched on the surface in parts. It is strong in its virile manhood, rich in its natural resources, fertile in soil, and vast in extent, and it still has rich sections undeveloped that are large enough to hold the populations of all the petty states of Europe.

These facts are more and more being recognized by all classes abroad, and more today than at any previous time. Canada is shining in the full light of a patriotic spirit. This light has cast its beams across the path of the old country capitalist as well as the European peasant.

The vast possibilities our land presents for the mining industries have made successful appeal, and the matter is now under practical consideration. According to press reports, "in July, about a hundred German manufacturers and merchants will make an extended tour, examining water powers and local circumstances governing the establishment of manufacturing. Also the Machinery Users Association of Great Britain will send out deputations and a committee of enquiry to prepare an impartial report setting forth the prospects for trade and for the establishment of factories."

The gentlemen mentioned in this relation are men who are identified with some of the largest business undertakings in England, and there is every reason to believe that their interest in the prospects of this country is practical. We believe that the result of their investigations will confirm them in the wisdom of starting commercial movements that will loom large in the future industrial life of Canada. And we may also feel justified in the belief that Canada will some day become famous not only for the products of the farm, but also for the volume and class of the products of her skilled labor.

DOUGHNUT.

The doughnut is a large hole entirely surrounded by indigestion. It was originally made in one solid piece, but after several all people had attacked it with fatal results the hole was introduced, thereby prolonging life and reducing the per capita death rate.

The doughnut is made of a heavy, thick material, similar to that used in laying a composition roof, and will hold its shape, color and flavor for years. The lifetime of the average doughnut, found at railroad crossing houses, is 2,000 years, but as travelling men usually inquire the age of each doughnut probably a fair average would be three score years and ten. No matter how old a doughnut is, it never will resist all efforts to mollify it without using a hatchet.

Doughnuts are usually kept under a glass case, so that the flavor will not get out and creep into the pie. The boarding house doughnut is a deadly missile which is put on the table day after day from force of habit, and also to add a touch of lightness to the table decorations. Once in a while some boarder will approach one of these doughnuts in a spirit of reckless daring and hunt around for some vulnerable spot, but will finally back off with an apologetic cough and tackle the remains of a Sunday roast. The theft of a boarding house doughnut for the purpose of relieving hunger is strong presumptive evidence of hereditary insanity.

The hole in the doughnut is put there so that people can get a fresh hold when they wish to brain the enemy. Some very men keep doughnuts in the house in lieu of a shotgun, and by using them judiciously are able to get considerable work out of tired husbands who have been on their feet all day, playing pool. An indolent husband will sit around in his stocking feet by the hour and observe all the reproaches his wife can think of, but a stirring rebuke in the form of a resilient doughnut will start him in the direction of the wood box on the dead run.

SUFFRAGE ROWS.

Russianism of women the world will tolerate a long time. Russianism of men towards women, however viciously challenged, it will not tolerate at all. The roughs who in Piccadilly Circus in London, and in Pennsylvania avenue in Washington, have been assaulting and insulting the demonstrating women may hold that by militancy the women have foregone the privileges of their sex, but they will soon realize that those privileges are inalienable—that no act that woman can do can deprive her of the right to man's protection, whether from physical or moral assault. Those roughs who have accepted the women's challenge to physical combat have simply given back to the women the ground these physical champions had lost for them by their rowdiness and mischief. We commend to those lads who have not developed into men the stinging words of the London Daily News:—"The appeal of a certain section of women inevitable awakens the lowest instincts of a certain type of man. The last bastion of manly ways ready to leap to life at the least excuse, and the resort of women to violence offers an excuse in its most attractive form. Physical conflict with women appeals to the brute in man with doubly sinister effect, and when women themselves invite the conflict he has at best the pretense of merely resorting to retaliation."

The women's indignant protests against the Washington authorities for not protecting their procession lose much of their force when it is noted that when, weeks ago, they applied for leave to have their procession, they were informed that the Washington police could not guarantee their safety. This might seem like a humiliating confession on the part of a national metropolis, liable at long intervals to moral invasions and upheavals, were it not demonstrated on the very same day that the London police, the most efficient and adequate in the world, was unable to cope with a similar outbreak at London's most respectable centre. Washington is an unusually well governed city but it is somewhat abnormal in the fact that it is rather a place of wealthy sojourners and political hangers-on than of natural commerce, and that it can produce a pretty low sort of rabble. The United States Government, to which Washington belongs, is, however, equal to such emergencies. When it be-

Well Known Ontario Merchant Has Faith Because "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Him

BRONSTE, ONT., MARCH 1st, 1912.

"Fruit-a-tives has made a complete cure in my case of Rheumatism, that had at least five years standing before I commenced the treatment. The trouble was principally in my right hip and shoulder, the pain from it was almost unendurable. Not being able to sleep on that side, I felt it was almost impossible to turn on my right side while asleep, the pain would immediately awaken me. This kept up until I started taking 'Fruit-a-tives'. I started by taking one or two tablets with a large glass of water in the morning before breakfast and experienced pronounced relief very shortly. After a continued treatment for about six months, I was cured and am now in first-class health. This, I attribute to my persistent use of 'Fruit-a-tives' and I heartily recommend it as a remedy to any Rheumatic sufferer."

came absolutely necessary, the street was cleared by cavalry held in readiness, and the women were fully protected. It was natural that the experience which they had challenged should fret them, but they do not seem to have a fair ground of complaint.

Stock Raising in Lacombe District

Everyone admits that there is money in dairying and hog raising in the Lacombe district, but the majority of farmers are not willing to milk many cows or to feed many hogs, no matter what money there may be in it. If that were all the district had to offer, many of our farmers would leave us and many incoming farmers would seek another location. But that is by no means the only opening, nor are these lines the only ones followed. The number of farmers who go into hog raising or dairying extensively is very small. We wish to call attention in this article to another line quite extensively followed.

In the early days Alberta had quite a name as a ranching country, and the south of the Province was known far and wide for the number of cattle raised there. As a matter of fact, even before ranching as a distinct business began to decline, the Lacombe district had more cattle to the square mile than the so-called cattle country, and the number has steadily increased ever since. Aside from the dairy business, the cattle business has been and still is a profitable one.

A cow will hunt her own living for from eight to ten months in the year and raise a calf worth in the fall at present prices about twenty-five dollars. The only expense is for a short time in winter when it costs about five dollars to winter such a cow. The margin of profit is quite apparent. It will cost about the same to winter the calf for each of two winters, and the fall after the third summer it will be worth at present prices, if a cow, from fifty to sixty dollars. It will take from fifteen to twenty dollars to feed it during the next winter so as to have it in first class condition for the spring market. Many when it will be worth from eighty to one hundred dollars, or even more for extra fine animals. Heifers, of course, are not worth quite so much for feeding, but nearly the same price may be obtained for them for breeding purposes, if it is not desired to keep them to increase the herd.

One of the greatest difficulties the world has to face today is the shortage in the supply of animal products. There are plenty of people upholding a vegetable diet, but the world demands more meat each year. As a country becomes more thickly populated it necessarily produces fewer animals. Land becomes more valuable and feed scarcer and harder to get. At once the demand increases and the supply decreases. In other lands this is very evident. It may pay to keep cows for their milk and butter, but it does not to raise a calf to maturity for its beef. We hear a great deal about the Canadian West supplying the world with bread. It is equally true that we must supply the meat.

Now there are other parts that may compete with Lacombe in raising good and wheat, but there are few, if any, that can compete successfully in raising cattle. In order to raise cattle properly and profitably, it is necessary to be able to depend on plenty of nutritious feed every year and all year round. This the Lacombe district can guarantee. We never have a destructive storm, we never have drying winds, we always have plenty of moisture. Even a partial failure of feed has never been known here. Plenty of good rich grass in the summer, plenty of hay, grain and straw in the winter.

Where is there another country where there are those conditions and a climate in which cattle will live outside, but feed is frequently scarce. In wet climates there is usually plenty of feed but cattle must be stabled in winter. Our climate has the unique quality of giving us our total rainfall during the summer when there is growth, and none at all in the winter. Many of our finest cattle never saw the inside of a stable. Many from our farmers can hardly remember the time when they were in the Government Experimental Farm here during the last winter. Two bunches of steers were fed at the same time on the same feed—one bunch in comfortable stables, the other in corrals outside. The outside group of cattle were rapidly and at less expense than those inside. Where you have feed for cattle for most of the year, for nothing, and the balance of the year at less cost than elsewhere, where the climate is such that no expense need be incurred for buildings, is surely the place to produce beef profitably.

On the farm nearly all the feed consumed by the cattle would otherwise go to waste. The shelter and the absence of storms here cut the losses of less sheltered localities. The world needs more meat; most of us desire more money. Here is surely the way to make it and at the same time benefit humanity. The Lacombe farmers can easily double the number of cattle. There is room for many more.

Let the high standard of quality for which we are noted be maintained, or even improved. It is not wise that strawstacks should be burned; they should be fed to the cattle. When the death of Mr. Morgan was seen to be approaching rapidly, Professor Bastianelli and Dr. Dixon forced Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Satterlee, his son-in-law and daughter, and Miss Helen Hamilton, who had been in constant attendance, to leave the room. Mr. Morgan toward the end showed that he was suffering internally only by a movement of his right hand. Otherwise he displayed no sign of vitality except by continuous heavy breathing.

J. P. Morgan Dead Aged 75 Years

Rome, March 31.—J. Pierpont Morgan is dead. He was 75 years old April 17, 1912. When the death of Mr. Morgan was seen to be approaching rapidly, Professor Bastianelli and Dr. Dixon forced Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Satterlee, his son-in-law and daughter, and Miss Helen Hamilton, who had been in constant attendance, to leave the room. Mr. Morgan toward the end showed that he was suffering internally only by a movement of his right hand. Otherwise he displayed no sign of vitality except by continuous heavy breathing.

Frequent bulletins were issued during the morning, showing that his condition was gradually becoming worse, and by 11 o'clock the physicians had given up all hope. Mr. Morgan was unable to assimilate the artificial nourishment administered during the morning, and his condition was such that he could not get out of bed. He was taken to the hospital, but these had no effect, and for several hours before his death he was in a state of coma, unable to respond to any question or to recognize any of those at his bedside.

ACADEMY NOTES

Melvin Milne made a flying trip to Olds the other evening to see his mother. He was in school at eight the next morning.

Elder C. A. Burman and Mr. U. Wisner went to Edmonton last Thursday on business, Elder Burman going on to Marquette, and Mr. Wisner spending Sabbath with the company at Leduc.

A score of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Johnson's friends dropped in by surprise the other evening to spend a social hour with them. All report a very pleasant entertainment, consisting principally of piano music and singing by Mrs. Johnson.

Leonard Light, of Cranbrook, Sask., who has been a student at the Academy since last November, left for that Province yesterday.

Providence Eyrang has closed up his work in the Academy and leaves today for his home at Leduc. Clifford Hubbard has completed his commercial work for this year, and leaves for his home at Lakeside today.

Urgent business interests demanded that Perry Finkle close up his school work for this year and return to his home at Mildred, Sask. He left last evening.

Mr. H. E. Sheldahl and Elder Haskew arrived last evening from a trip to Innisfail and Deer, bringing with them a young horse for the Academy. Mrs. Wm. VanBuskirk had the misfortune to slip and fall while leaving a carriage last Monday. Her injuries were so serious that a physician was called. She is recovering at this writing.

Wm. Tall and family are leaving today, he for their old home in Manitoba, and Mr. Tall and the children for his home in Washington, where they will spend the summer. They have been attending the Academy during the winter, and are storing their goods here with the intention of returning next fall. Mr. Tall will return to his colporteur work in Manitoba.

Cal and Earl Smith spent the week end at their home near Olive, taking Andrew Haynal with them. They returned the first of the week, accompanied by their sister Madge, who is visiting at the Academy for a few days.

The regular monthly missionary meeting was conducted last Sabbath by Mr. W. L. Manfull, missionary agent for the Western Canadian Union Conference. An interesting and instructive study was conducted, followed by a liberal donation to this particular line of work.

The following are the recently elected Sabbath school officers: General Superintendent, George Polinkas; Assistants, Miss Gertrude McCullough, Wm. McGready; Secretary, Flora Champagne; Assistant, Ethel Wallace; Organist, Susie Hayal; Chorister, Elmer Clark.

Mrs. Jennie Weeks has sold her property in Rosedale to Mrs. McClaffin and Mrs. Holleman, of Bismarck, and leaves this week to visit her brother at Cranbrook, Sask., after which she plans to make her home in British Columbia.

J. C. Christensen made a flying trip to Calgary last week. While there he traded a farm near Granum for 45 lots in a suburb of that city.

Last Wednesday evening Mrs. J. I. Beardley, Elder and Alberta, left for their home in Sutherland, Iowa, in response to a telegram telling of the serious illness of her father. Professor Beardley accompanied them as far as Calgary.

The astronomy and commercial arithmetic classes have completed their work for this year, and had their final examinations. The eighth grade grammar class had its final examination tomorrow.

Mr. Chester Hastings, of Olive was a visitor one day this week, as was also Mr. Bates, of Didsbury. The Academy organs and pianos have recently been repaired and tuned by Mr. Woody of Lacombe.

There is to be a box social held at the Spruceville school house on Friday evening, April 11th, under the auspices of the U. F. A., the proceeds to go towards a picnic to be held some time during the summer. Everybody invited, and a good program will be provided. Boxes will be limited.

Mr. William Gibson has been on a sick list. Miss Black and Miss Archibald attended the teachers' convention at Edmonton last week.

MILTON

What next! A hockey team for Milton! But don't laugh, for they won their first and only game of the season, defeating the Fairview Wanderers by the neat score of 6 to 3. Mr. James Burrows is the proud father of a bouncing boy.

Seed time and the provincial elections are at hand. Let us consider well where we shall cast our vote, for we must reap the harvest, be it wheat or tares.

Our minister, Mr. Leslie, will soon be leaving us. We are very glad to see that the men of the district take such a live interest in the U. F. A. meetings, for through them the farmer comes to find what good neighbors he has and how he may perhaps help the other fellow at times when many may succeed but one will fail.

ECKVILLE

Mr. A. Litt was away for a few days during the week attending a meeting at Stettler in the interests of the co-operative system.

Miss Kinna, of Eckville, and Miss F. Evans, of Leslieville, who have been attending school in Red Deer, are spending the Easter vacation at their respective homes.

work on the bridges west of the river on the C. N. R. line. The political parties have been busy here since the announcement that the election would be held on April 17th.

On Friday, March 28th, Messrs. Michener, Johns and Payne spoke at a Conservative meeting held in the hall. A Liberal meeting to be held on April 2nd, will be addressed by Mr. Melliver and others.

The Socialist candidate, Mr. Patton, will hold a meeting, but the date has not been announced. Mr. Barham, of Iowa, is moving to the farm of Mr. A. Eckford. Unfortunately he took sick on his way out and has been confined to the house for a few days with an attack of pleurisy.

Mr. J. Lundberg, agent for the John Deere Co., has received a carload of farm machinery. Intending purchasers would do well to give Mr. Lundberg a call.

Mr. Sifton, by the appropriation of this Conservative plank, placed himself in opposition to the action of the Government.

The stand of Mr. MacDonald is one that cannot fail to commend itself to every man who acknowledges the right of the people at large to decide this matter by means of a plebiscite, upon a sixty per cent. majority, which is fair to all concerned in the settlement of this question. It is not a question of prohibition; it is a question of the legitimate rights of the people to pronounce upon the control of this traffic.

We have every reason to believe that we will be treated in the same manner as the other provinces. A vote for the Old time band means a desire to continue the gift of $1,125,000 annually to the Dominion Government. And this is a pernicious desire when we are now oppressed with a debt that is gradually climbing to the $20,000,000 mark. A vote for Mr. Michener and his supporters means a source of revenue to pay our debt and re-establish our credit.

Why Sifton has taken him in is not difficult to explain, for Arthur knows quite as well as Brother Clifford that Mr. Leach is a "big" and that was an improvement on Scott's "big" Leach is an expert in such "human devices" as make a travesty of reasonable government, and he has a reproach to any people.

The bazaar arranged for by the First Thursday Guild, on Easter Monday was even more of a success than anticipated, in that about $75 was raised for their fund. The supper was attended by a large number and after the rendering of the program, which consisted of several good numbers, the balance of goods then unsold were auctioned off by C. F. Damron, our local celebrity in the auctioneering biz.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Aulsebrook, of Lacombe, have been visiting their friends in this vicinity during the last week.

Something in the shape of a blizzard of more than usual violence passed over the village on Saturday night about 8 o'clock. A fire in the chimney of Wm. McPherson's house raged at the same time and caused considerable excitement for a few minutes before it subsided. Reports are coming in of people losing their way on the lake during the storm, but not with any serious results, we understand.

J. P. McPherson left for the west on Monday morning for the purpose of appointing enumerators and posting notices relative to the forthcoming election.

Don't forget that the W. M. A. Society are giving a dance in the hall on Friday, April 4th. All are requested to come early, as it will be a program dance with lap supper provided. A short program is being arranged for the supper interval, and a good time guaranteed. Tickets 50c.

A box social will be given under the auspices of the Anglican Church on or about Thursday, April 10th. A short farce, sensationally entitled "April Fools," is being rehearsed for production on that night. This alone will make the entertainment well worth attending, and you are requested to look for further particulars regarding exact date of the event.

We understand that O'Neill Bros. are taking over B. E. Williams' stock of general merchandise on April 1st.

W. J. Cummings has a large sale billed for next Saturday, April 6th. As Mr. Cummings is moving to British Columbia, everything listed will be sold.

Damron, auctioneer.

J. G. Blish is vacating the Alexandra Hotel and the lease will be taken over by Mr. J. B. Blish, late of Red Deer.

We notice that Putland & Thorpe are displaying an unusually attractive line of Ladies' and Children's Ready-to-Wear Waists, Dresses and Aprons. Also they have just unpacked a large shipment of Fir-Rite Clothing.

Bentley, March 31. The Ladies' Guild wish to thank all the friends who so freely and liberally contributed to the bazaar.

The regular meeting of the Guild will be held in the club room next Thursday, April 3rd. Every member is requested to be present. Important business.

The Rev. Haddon will conduct services next Sunday as follows:—11 a.m., Rimeley; 3:30 p.m., Centre View; 7:30 p.m., Bentley. The pastor will preach a special sermon to children.

A very important event took place at the home of Mr. Withers, Medicine Valley, Wednesday morning, when Nora Withers was united in matrimony to Fred Lamb by the Rev. H. R. Haddon. After the ceremony a luncheon was provided. Immediately following this, the young couple left for the southern part of the Province, where they intend to stay a few days. A happy and prosperous wedding is the wish of the whole community.

The bazaar in connection with the Ladies' Guild was certainly a great success. Every credit is due the ladies in charge of the various committees. The dry-goods department, under the supervision of Mrs. John Damron and Mrs. C. Putland, was most artistically arranged. During the afternoon this booth took in over $15. The candy department was also very sweetly arranged and under the direction of Mrs. Birth and Mrs. Morrison. Between 5 and 7:30 a chicken supper was served. This was handled in a very able manner by Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Garries, Mrs. Coling and Miss Pugh. After lunch a musical program was rendered, and last, but not least, was the auction sale of the goods that had not been sold during the day. This was conducted by our own auctioneer, C. F. Damron. The proceeds of the whole bazaar amounted to $75, which will be turned over to the church building fund.

SPRUCEVILLE

The party at Alexander's on Easter Monday was the most successful event of the season. Over a hundred guests were present, and as Mr. Alexander has a large building erected and fitted up for a dance hall, there was plenty of room for everybody. The floor was in excellent shape, and as the night was cold, the crowd was in high spirits for dancing. The music, which was supplied by the Pollard Bros., could not be beaten. At midnight all retired to the house, and Mrs. Alexander had the tables all laid out, and a lovely supper was served. Both Mrs. and Miss Alexander made charming hostesses. The crowd did not break up until 5 a.m.

Miss Mabel Swanson returned this week to school.

Mrs. A. Cannon and Mrs. Manhart spent the afternoon and evening with Miss McLean.

LA VESTA

The spring flood is upon us again—the flood of settlers.

Mr. Bennett, with road outfit, stayed at Lavesta on the way to their camping ground. The new blacksmith shop is ready for business.

A cow belonging to Mr. McGee had twin calves last week. All three are doing well.

Shaw Faces Defeat

From all over Alberta comes the glad tidings that the Shaw party are making things exceedingly warm for the followers of Cross in the Sifton Government.

From Edmonton comes the news that Cross himself will be defeated by the supporters of good, clean government. That this is secured is attested by the fact that Cross has decided to run in two constituencies, and in looking around has not upon Edson. His choice of Edson is a happy one, but not one which will inspire any more confidence in that gentleman.

McKay, the last of the Ontario Liberal leaders, who was compelled to get out of Ontario for reasons best known to himself, has also decided to seek election in Edmonton. McKay's departure from the Liberal ranks in Ontario has greatly strengthened the Ontario Liberal party, and they are now in a fair way to power in the not distant future.

McKay has been pulled into provincial politics, does not speak well for the avowed intentions of Sifton to give Alberta clean government.

It takes clean politicians to give a country clean government.

From Stettler comes the word that another Cross man, Shaw, late member, will get his defeat this time. There is a good strong man out against him, and an overwhelming majority against Cross and his followers.

With Cross, McKay and Duncan Marshall in control at Edmonton, what can any reasonable man expect from the government.

The Western Globe's Stand

In this election campaign the Western Globe intends taking a strong stand for good government in the interests of the Province. We have watched for years the struggles of a government rent by internal troubles, and have come to the conclusion that a government divided against itself cannot properly serve the country.

We hailed the advent of Premier Sifton in Provincial politics with a feeling of relief, as we believed that Sifton was a strong man, and would give the Province good government.

Premier Sifton has proved to the country that he is not a strong man. He has been dominated by Attorney-General Cross and his followers, and always shown that he was afraid to fight out legislation, which, while in the interests of the Province, was distasteful to that faction.

The followers of Cross in the government, compelled Premier Sifton to take that gentleman into his cabinet, against his (Sifton's) better judgment. The fear that Cross and his followers would throw themselves with the Opposition against the Government, and defeat it, has caused the Premier to get in that faction on several occasions.

Had Premier Sifton been the strong man he was thought to be, he would have at the outset come out against the Cross faction, even though it would have compelled him to go to the country. There is not the slightest doubt but that he would have wiped this faction out of existence and have saved the Province millions of dollars.

The electors of the Province were with him almost to a man. Today he is looked upon as a man who will put party interests above all else. He has lost the confidence of the people, and rightly so.

With Cross the leading power in Provincial affairs, the people look for an even more deplorable state of affairs than exist at present.

Therefore, throwing aside all party allegiance, The Western Globe will be found throughout this campaign fighting for the people's rights and the welfare of the Province of Alberta.

The Temperance Question

The Morning Albertan, of Calgary, the leading organ of the Sifton Government in Alberta, on Saturday morning published an editorial deploring the fact that the temperance question is being brought into this campaign.

In a not hysterical way The Albertan says "The temperance question is not an issue in this election."

The Albertan is wrong. The temperance question is a very strong issue in this campaign, is worth and will be a strong issue in every future campaign.

The temperance people of Alberta are tired of the things they have been played with by the present administration, and will assert themselves in this election as never before.

It would be a good thing for the government if the temperance question was a dead issue, but the desire of The Albertan to keep it out of this campaign temperance question is a very strong issue in this campaign, is worth

Vote for Principles

The air will soon be full of them; at every polling booth men will be casting votes for the candidates chosen by the different political parties. The question that should prompt it in the mind of every thinking man is, "Whom have I chosen as a suitable representative for the constituency?" Regardless of political leanings or party affiliations the man himself should be the argument in favor of one candidate or another. The question should not be primarily, "Is he one of my party?" but "Is he the man for the place?" We do not think for a single moment that party lines should be torn down, and the voting done solely for the individual who happens to be a candidate for the honor his fellow-citizens can give. The political parties each stand for concrete principles that each considers more conducive to the prosperity and welfare of the country at large. The day has gone when one party was the party of oppression and another of freedom. The big terms of the nation's struggle for liberty has never been left in Canada; she has always enjoyed it.

Cast an honest vote for the man and the principles he upholds, rather than to vote blindly for a party. Because a man's grandfather was of a particular party should be no reason why he should vote that way; be independent, use your own judgment.

Look into the man's record, examine the principles he stands upon. Are they right? Then cast your vote intelligently.

"My little son had a very severe cold. I was recommended to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and before a small bottle was finished he was as well as ever," writes Mrs. H. S. Sikes, 29 Dowling street, Sydney, Australia. This remedy is for sale by Lacombe Drug Co., Ltd.
